DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF WASHINGTON COUNTY

VOLUME V.

SPRINGFIELD, KY., WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1909.

NUMBER 52

FINAL CALL

Answered by Several People of This County During The Past Week.

HARDESTY.

A very sad death indeed was that of little Earl Hardesty, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hardesty, who died at one o'clock yesterday morning of membranous croup. Some days ago Mr. Hardesty accompanied by his family went to the home of his father, Mr. W. T. Hardesty, to pay a visit. On last Friday Earl was taken ill but at first it was thought not fatally, but Monday night he became worse and died yesterday morning. The remains were brought to town yesterday and the funeral services held this morning at St. Dominic's church where a large crowd gathered to pay their last tribute of love to the little fellow and express their sympathy for the bereaved parents. A touching sight was the presence of the little school mates from his grade in the public school. The remains were taken to Lebanon for interment.

The little fellow would have been seven years old this month and there was not a handsoner not a manly boy in town. He was the light and life of the home and the joy and pride of his parents' life. His death is indeed a shock to them and they have the sympathy of the entire community.

SMITH.

Mrs. Sylvester Smith died at the home of her husband last Thursday night at 12 o'clock after an illness lasting since April of this year. Despite the fact that the deceased had long been an invalid and that death was bound to come she was a patient, cheerful and met death with Christian resignation and fortitude. Mrs. Smith was buried from St. Rose church Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

The deceased is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Bud Mattingly, and two sons, Messrs. Ed and Bert Smith.

THOMPSON.

On Monday morning at 5 o'clock the Death Angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thompson, of Preckland, and carried to its eternal home on high their 15 months old child, Andrew. The baby died of whooping cough. The remains were interred in the Pleasant Grove cemetery yesterday morning at 11 o'clock.

An Impressive Ceremony.

A beautiful and impressive ceremony was the marriage of Mr. J. E. Osborne and Miss Hester Blandford in St. Rose church on the 25 inst. They were married at Nuptial Mass celebrated by Rev. Father Gavin and served by John Blandford and Emmett Osborne, brothers of the bride and groom. The Sanctuary of the beautiful old church was decorated with white, green and lighted candles. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Kate Cain, accompanied by Miss Sue Ray with mandolin, the bride and groom, and Messrs. Leon Blandford and Herman Smith, attendants, entered the Sanctuary. During the ceremony Miss Hyster sang Melody of Love, Ave Maria and O Salutaris in her beautiful contralto voice as only she could sing. The groom, son of Mr. J. S. Osborne, is a progressive young farmer of the country. The bride, daughter of Mr. T. M. Blandford, is loved by all with whom she comes in contact for her many rare qualities of heart and mind. The happy couple left immediately for Louisville and other points.

Simms-Simms.

On Thanksgiving morning at 6:30 o'clock Mr. Thos. W. Simms, Sr., and Miss Mary Lee Simms were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at the Sacred Heart church at 17th and Broadway in Louisville, Rev. Father Walsh officiating.

The bride is the oldest daughter of the late Capt. Pat and Mrs. Nannie Simms and is a young lady who has a host of friends in Springfield. Mr. Simms is one of the wealthiest and best known men of the county and is a member of one of the oldest families of the county.

Claims Allowed.

County Clerk W. E. Booker reports that during the year 1909 claims were allowed by the Fiscal Court of Washington county to the farmers of the county for sheep killed by dogs to the extent of $2,000.96. This law is a great boon to the farmers for whereas they formerly were not paid for but a small proportion of the sheep killed they now get pay for all the sheep killed by dogs, when the ownership of the dogs cannot be established. There are about 1,200 dogs in the county on which taxes are paid.

Young Candidate.

Master Dudley Ragdale, son of Mrs. Mary C. Ragdale, has authorized the announcement of his candidacy for Page in the next House of Representatives. Dudley has served as Page for two terms, having been elected the first time when his uncle, Hon. W. D. Claybrooke, represented this county, and was re-elected at the last session. Dudley is a bright young fellow and we predict that he will some day be Governor of Kentucky.

Carries by About 4,000.

Official tabulation of the vote cast at the last election by the State Board of Election Commissioners Monday, showed that the Good Roads amendment to the Constitution carried by a majority of 5,490. This will be the majority certified to the Secretary of State by the Election Commission, and will be final, although some counties did not send in their vote on the amendment. Even counting the vote in the missing counties the good roads amendment will have a majority of at least 4,000. The result was a great surprise even to Senator Wyatt, who had introduced the bill, providing for a vote on the amendment. He had hoped that the official vote would show a majority for the amendment, but even he did not hope that the majority would be so large.

High School Notes.

The few days vacation of last week are over. The results are as usual a lot of missed lessons on Monday.

The debate that was put off the other week on account of the absence of so many of the debaters will be held next Friday afternoon. We may be sure of an interesting discussion as more time has been given in preparation.

Of course there is some reason why the boys didn't get more game during the few days hunt last week. Rickets, with a new automatic, did well we think in getting two birds. Though we are not absolutely sure he got them himself as two other men were with him.

A little attempt in Rhetoric of writing an allegory may be a good exercise, but Ben E. would rather develop his manuscript than read it to the class.

Sick-Headache.

This distressing disease results from a disordered condition of the stomach, and can be cured by taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Get a free sample at The Leo Haydon Drug Store and try it.

AWAITS TRIAL

Henry Davison, Slayer of Prentice Boblitt, Caught in Pineville. Now in Louisville Jail.

Henry Davison, the negro who shot Prentice Boblitt two weeks ago yesterday and from whose pistol shot Mr. Boblitt died on the succeeding day, was captured last Wednesday in Pineville, Ky., by the Chief of Police of that place. Immediately after the shooting and when it had been ascertained that the boy had escaped Marshal Grace telephoned throughout the State a description of the negro. Henry had worked in Pineville last summer as porter for R. L. Parks, proprietor of the Pineville Hotel. It was therefore easy for the Chief of Police of that place to identify the negro and place him under arrest. The Chief of Police immediately communicated with Mr. Grace who left on Wednesday night for Pineville. Instead of bringing the negro to Springfield Mr. Grace in order to guarantee his absolute safety took him to Louisville, where he is now incarcerated in the Jefferson county jail. The negro was taken from Pineville to Louisville handcuffed. Upon arriving there it was attempted to remove the handcuffs when the key broke in the lock and the negro for several hours after his arrival was compelled to remain manacled.

Examining trial has been waived and the negro will await the action of the grand jury which meets in February.

Amendment Loses.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 29.—All indications point to a majority of between 18,000 and 20,000 in Alabama against the prohibition constitutional amendment to-day. Chairman J. Lee Long, who has been in charge of the fight against the amendment, claims that the majority against the amendment will be fully 25,000.

The early returns indicated a landslide against the amendment, and succeeding bulletins fully bore out the early indications.

Jefferson county, in which is Birmingham, the largest city in the State, in spite of the fact that the fight has been concentrated here, gave a majority of over 1,000 against the amendment. Mobile, Montgomery and Cullman counties show the largest majorities on the victorious side, and it appears the amendment has carried but six counties—Talladega, Macon, Sumter, Lee, Chambers and Pickens.

Saulley Mentioned.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 29.—News came fresh from Stanford, down in Lincoln county, that Judge M. C. Saulley, just re-elected to the Thirteenth district Circuit Court bench, to succeed Judge C. W. Bell, has about decided to yield to the solicitation of his friends and enter the race for the Democratic nomination for Governor. Judge Saulley has authorized no announcement to be made.

Something New Under The Sun.

Shows may come and shows may go, but Wood & Ward, like the green bay tree seem to flourish forever. They are the same old rollicking pair each year. "Two Merry Tramps" has been presented eleven years, yet it is new this season, the book has been rewritten, and the music all new, catchy and whistly, making it one of those merry, mirthful musical comedies. A gorgeous gown chorus of pretty girls which includes the famous square. This attraction will be the offerer at the Opera House, Saturday night, Dec. 4.

Try Kentucky Star Flour. It's made like grandfather used to make it.

...Where The Four Leaf Clovers Grow...

I know a place where the sun is like gold,
And the cherry blooms burst with snow;
And down underneath is the loveliest nook,
Where the four leaf clovers grow.

One leaf is for love, and one is for faith,
And one is for love, you know;
And God puts another in for luck—
If you search you will find where they grow.

But you must have hope, and you must have faith;
You must love and be strong—and so
If you work, if you wait, you will find the place
Where the four leaf clovers grow.

—Ella Higginson.

TOBACCO MARKET

Holding up Well.—Good Sales at Both Houses.—High Prices Being Realized.

There have been 128,560 pounds of tobacco sold on the two local markets at the last three sales. On Friday at the Washington County Tobacco Warehouse market 14,500 pounds were sold, yesterday 29,400 and to-day 6,625 at an average price for the three sales of 133 cents. At to-day's sale the best prices realized were paid for the tobacco of C. P. Goode & Bro., 100 pounds selling at 164 cts, 240 at 171 and 195 at 151. On Friday the Farmers Warehouse Co. sold 37,070 pounds at 14 cents, yesterday 32,710 pounds at 123 cents and to-day 8,185 pounds at 123 cents.

Among the best sales on this market to-day were:

A. ELIOTT.

190 pounds @	133c
115 pounds @	164c
150 pounds @	150c
190 pounds @	154c

As soon as a rain comes and the farmers can get to work on their tobacco it will begin to roll in.

The buyers of the past week have been Messrs. Graves, Moss, Lake and Howard.

Pay For Teachers.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 29.—Superintendent of Public Instruction J. G. Crabbe is to-day making out vouchers for school teachers' salaries of the State for the past two months, the total amount of which is just a little over $1,000,000, and as yet there is no money in the State treasury with which to pay the salaries. State Treasurer Edwin Parley says, however, that before the end of December he hopes to have enough from taxes to pay the teachers every cent that is due them. He calculates on about a million and a half dollars being paid into the treasury during December.

The drafts for payment of the salaries of city school teachers, made out by Superintendent Crabbe, amount to $205,124.04, while the salaries due the county school teachers amounts to $281,077.45. Checks for these figures will come in handy about Christmas time, and Treasurer Parley says he is going to make every effort to see that they are paid before then.

Two Merry Tramps.

A treat seldom offered the theatre going public in its stores for them when those famous funny fellows, Wood & Ward, are to be seen here in the ever-lasting singing, ringing, too-fooling musical farce, "Two Merry Tramps," which they have appeared in for the past eleven seasons. This year it has been all rewritten and revised with new catchy music all of the whistling kind. The production consists of twenty people which includes a dainty chorus of pretty girls with gorgeous gowns, twelve big ensemble singing selections and all of the ear teasing kind, gone to make this attraction the success it is. Their appearance here will be at the Opera House, Saturday, December 4.

Smashes All Records.

NEWS NOTES

Gathered by Our Valley Hill Correspondent.—Happenings Of The Past week.

Since our last issue Thanksgiving day has passed, and we have oftentimes wondered if, indeed, we make this day one of Thanksgiving. How many of us realize the real meaning the word implies? Not all by any means. Anyway, we hope that all the readers enjoyed a happy Thanksgiving day.

What do you readers think of the fact that "Uno" ate dinner at home Thanksgiving and contented himself with (out) turkey, too. Gee, but it is awful the way poor correspondents are forgotten.

Several from this place attended the Leachman-Edgerton wedding at Pleasant Grove the 24th inst.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Reed, of Booker, Mrs. S. E. Piles and W. T. Beam were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. Reed Thanksgiving day.

Benedict James was at Maple Hill Thursday on business.

Ed Kelly and wife were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Gostley Thursday.

Mrs. Jack Sheahan, of near Bloomfield, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Briggs, of this place, Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. Thos. Colvin, of Louisville, spent Thanksgiving as the guest of E. I. Colvin and wife, of Litsay.

Mrs. T. C. Tatum entertained several of her friends at an elegant dinner Thanksgiving day.

Walter Briggs spent last week-end as the guest of relatives at Bloomfield. Peter Sheahan spent Thanksgiving with relatives at Maud.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Troutman, Mrs. Ora Crume and Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Virgin, of Maud, and Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Goodlett, of Polm, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gostley Thanksgiving day.

James Hunter has returned to his home in Louisville, after a week's hunt at the home of T. C. Tatum.

G. C. Donahoe has returned to his home at this place with his clover huller after a successful run in the Pleasant Grove section.

Peyton Briggs was in Bardtown Friday on business.

Ed Moran was a guest at Elm Hill Sunday.

J. C. Hughes and mother were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Gostley Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Baker and Hugh Leachman and wife were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Moran Saturday.

John James and wife visited Mrs. N. W. James, of Springfield, Sunday.

Mr. Jas. I. Martin spent Thanksgiving in Louisville.

Herbert Moran received a slight gunshot wound about the head and neck

FARM AND STOCK

Items of Interest to Farmers and Live Stock and Poultry Raisers.

Wipe the coffee pot off with a cold wet cloth to settle coffee. Grease your sweet potatoes before baking. It keeps the skin tender.

Geese can be well fattened for market in twelve or fourteen days.

A scrub rooster is the most expensive luxury the farmer can indulge in.

It takes brams to raise a good fruit or vegetable crop.

A good orchardist bestows as much care on his orchard as on his family.

The market for winter vegetables is rarely glutted and prices are always good.

Plowing under green or heavy manure wonderfully helps a hard and clayish soil.

Pure bred fowls if not given pure bred treatment are very apt to degenerate into scrubs.

Feeding the same kind of feed too long is not a very good way to maintain health and increase the egg yield.

To do our work well or to be careless in doing it are as much different as working hard is from being idle.

A dirt floor absorbs filth and the impurities can only be removed by changing the entire floor and substituting fresh dirt.

A hen doesn't seem to have much sense sometimes, but it is she of the right sort and treated right she will bring the cents to her owner.

When fowls are bred and managed for winter layers year after year the disposition to produce winter eggs becomes hereditary to some extent.

See that filth is removed and stagnant water. Filth of any kind especially in the water is the starting point of many poultry diseases.

Sheep for breeding should be given a light ration, such as will keep them in good, thrifty condition but not too fat.

The best thing that you can do with ewes which have reached the age of six years is to fatten them and send them to market.

Grit, oyster shells and charcoal are side dishes that must not be omitted. They aid the digestion and promote health.

If too much salt has been added to any dish, a little sugar and a suspicion of vinegar will often rectify the mistake.

The average production of apples this year is 42.5 per cent. of a full crop, against 43.4 per cent. in 1908, and a ten year average of 50.9 per cent.

Roop is very contagious and we can not be too careful in getting sick birds separated from well ones. And try to kill the infection by powerful disinfectants.

It is a mistake to use an immature bird as a breeder. Usually birds eight months old are of mature size and can be used for breeding purposes.

To be called a dunghill does not imply the manure heap but that she is of no particular breed—a composite from a number of crosses.

A henhouse just a little overcrowded and kept too tight becomes damp with moisture laden air, then colds may be expected. And there is always danger of colds developing into roup.

A hen must keep in good condition. She must be neither too fat nor too poor. Both extremes are bad. She must be neither overfed nor underfed, either condition will bring about fatal results.

Don't allow rubbish to accumulate about the poultry yards or runs, to become the breeding place for lice and disease germs. If you cannot burn it, hire some one to clean it up and haul it away. Get rid of it somehow.

Growing colts should be allowed to run out every day that the weather will permit, sheltering them, however, at night and on stormy days. There is no class of stock that can in any way be benefitted by being exposed to cold and storms.

About eighteen to twenty inches on the racks should be allowed each sheep, additional racks being constructed to accommodate the growing flock. Plenty of room at the grain troughs should also be provided. About ten square feet of floor space is necessary for each mature sheep.

If a cow is inclined to kick while being milked, pass a small rope around the body just in front of the udder and over the top of the hips. Draw it up snugly but not tight. If the teats or udder are not sore, this method will quickly cure kicking. The trouble is usually with the milker.

Don't feed too much heavy grain, and don't feed it without mixing in some lighter feed to aid in digesting it. Equal parts coarse linseed-meal and gluten with shorts make a good mixture for milk. Feed from two to four quarts to a cow, varying with the age and condition of the animal.

Poultry and dairy farming go well together. In these days of improved dairy methods when the cream is separated from the milk immediately after being drawn from the cow, the dairy farmer has plenty of skim milk, which is an ideal food for poultry, and there is more money in feeding it to the hens than to the hogs.

When a splinter has been driven into the hand it can be extracted by steaming. Fill a wide-mouthed bottle nearly full of hot water, place the injured part over the mouth and press it slightly. The action thus produced will draw the flesh down and in a minute or two the steam will extract the splinter also the inflammation.

When putting into the oven a roast that you have reason to suspect is a little tough, put a small dish of vinegar in also. It will make the meat more tender, improve the flavor and keep it from burning. A tablespoonful of vinegar added to a five pound pot roast will make the meat more tender and palatable.

Not more than twenty-five birds should be kept in one flock. If divided into flocks of about this size they will do better than in one large flock. A house 8x16 feet will accommodate twenty-five birds if it is kept clean and is properly ventilated.

Now that the breeding season is approaching the flock owner should devote his attention to preparing his breeding ewes for mating. The time to commence this preparation is immediately after the lambs have been weaned but now is not too late to help matters wonderfully. All experienced flock owners realize that the condition of the ewes at mating time has a marked influence not only on the number of ewes to become pregnant at first mating but upon the vitality of the lambs.

Mild Laxative for Baby Free

The child of today is the parent of the future, and whether it grows up healthy and strong, or puny and weak, depends upon the intelligence of its parents, for most children are born into the world healthy, but thousands become future weaklings between birth and the age of ten, when the parents are still in greatest control. The prime cause of trouble in the stomachs of babies is indigestion. The little child whose stomach is good grows and plays and never whines; the growing child learns well at school and is eager for fun if its head is clear and its stomach light, and that means if it has no constipation.

The best and safest way to cure any irregularity of the stomach and bowels in children is by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a liquid laxative wonderful in its effect as Mrs. John W. Dunham, Apple Creek, O., Mrs. H. L. Cullum, Fairville, Ind., and numerous others can testify who give it to their children with extraordinary results. A bottle only costs 50 cents or 75¢ according to the size you want, and even one 5-cent bottle will do a wonderful amount of good to a family. It can be given to any member of the family in constipation, indigestion, biliousness, torpid liver, dyspepsia, heartburn, sick headache, and other digestive troubles. It never gripes or strangles like pills, tablets, and cathartics, which should not be given to children, women or old people.

If you have a child or other member of the family who is constipated, send your name and address to the doctor and a free trial bottle will be sent to your home. In this way you can find out what it will do without personal expense.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 505 Caldwell bldg., Monticello, Ill.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give one hundred dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. FIVE YEARS OLD.

This is the fifth anniversary of the founding of The Springfield Sun. We are as yet, as to age in the newspaper world, an infant, not protected, yet healthy and lusty, and we attribute this to the fact that from our birth our aim has been to adhere to truth, and our sincere desire and earnest endeavor to publish a good local paper and to please our patrons, in other words to give every man a "square deal" and a "run for his money."

The pathway of a country editor and proprietor is not always strewn with roses. With them thorns are mixed. We have inhaled the perfume of the one and felt the prick of the other but we are glad we are alive, and if we may add, doing our share in the newspaper work as we see our duty outlined.

Five years ago Mr. J. Rogers Gore founded The Springfield Sun and was its editor and proprietor until February 1st, of this year, when it passed to its present management. Since we have had control our chief aim has been to serve the public and publish the news. In the latter endeavor the public at large can be of great assistance, and if at times we have failed to publish a news item of interest, please, subscribe.

Mr. S. M. Campbell last week sold his farm just south of town on the Lebanon pike to Mr. E. I. Colvin. The place consists of 50 acres and the consideration was $6,000 or $120 per acre.

The remains of Mrs. Annie Commerce, who died in Louisville yesterday, reached here to-day and were taken to Bethlehem for interment. The funeral was conducted by Rev. R. L. Purdon. Mrs. Commerce leaves a family to mourn her.

The Administrator's Sale of Thos. W. Reed, deceased, will take place on Thursday, Dec. 9, 1909, promptly at 1 p. m. A lot of live stock, farming implements, household goods, etc., will be sold.

The chief feature of the Sunday Courier-Journal's magazine was a story entitled The Sheriff of Galloway written by Mr. Edwin Carlie Litsay, of Lebanon. Mr. Litsay is well known to Springfield people, having married a Springfield girl several years ago, and our people take a deep interest in his work and pride in his achievements.

We take pleasure in directing our readers' attention to the advertisement of the Southern School of Telegraphy, of Newnan, Georgia, which appears elsewhere in this issue of The Sun. The S. S. T. is the leading Telegraph Institute in the United States and its graduates are always in demand. The railroads of the country are in need of many additional Telegraph Operators, and every young man wishing to learn a practical trade would do well to write the School at Newnan for its new illustrated Catalog giving full information.

Good Cough Medicine for Children and Grown Folks, Too.

"We could hardly do without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Mrs. Flora Despain, of Bloyd, Ky. "I found it to be so good for the cough and have used it for years. I can heartily recommend it for coughs, colds and croup in children and grown folks, too." The above shows the implicit confidence that many mothers place in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, a confidence based on many years' experience in the use of it. No one need hesitate to use this remedy for it contains no chloroform, opium or other narcotics and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. For sale by The Leo Haydon Drug Co.

Deal Expected Early.

(Contributed)

Indications point to an early sale of the Burley Pool; that the American Tobacco Co., to meet the demands of their trade, are compelled to take the crop of 1909 season, is evident from the fact that negotiations are on between their Representative and the Board of Control at Lexington. From all reports several conferences have been held between their Representatives and the Managers in regard to the holdings, and another meeting is expected at any time that will consummate the deal. That the Society is master of the situation can no longer be doubted; that the movement on the part of the Growers has accomplished much, no thinking man can longer doubt throughout the Burley growing section. It means much to this section and we would advise the growers of Washington county to carefully consider. As we have stated before in these columns a real live market here at Springfield means much to Washington county, from the fact the entire production is marketed here at home and paid for before leaving the county, forcing purchasers to pay all transportation and charges besides expense of management by increasing price. Besides all of this the Society proposes to establish handling houses and put tobacco in merchantable shape at actual cost to the growers. We, without any selfishness on our part urge the tobacco growers to look into the situation carefully. Success to this movement will add much to the interest of Washington and every county growing burley tobacco.

Lived 152 Years.

Wm. Parr—England's oldest man—married the third time at 120, worked in the fields till 132 and lived 20 years longer. People should be youthful at 80. James Wright, of Spruick, Ky., shows how to remain young. "I feel just like a 16-year-old boy," he writes, "after taking six bottles of Electric Bitters. For thirty years Kidney trouble made life a burden, but the first bottle of this wonderful medicine convinced me I had found the greatest cure on earth." They're a godsend to weak, sickly run-down or old people. Try them. 50c at Hayden & Robertson's.

WHY SALVES FAIL TO CURE ECZEMA.

They Clog the Pores—Only a Liquid Can Reach the Inner Skin.

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged. This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the only standard liquid eczema cure, oil of wintergreen as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription. After ten years of cure after cure, the world's leading skin specialists have accepted this as the true eczema cure.

We ourselves do not hesitate to recommend D. D. D. Prescription at $1.00 a bottle, but for the benefit of those who have never tried the prescription, we arranged with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special large trial bottle at 25 cents on a special offer now. This trial bottle ought to convince every sufferer, and, at any rate, it will surely take away the itch agony. Hayden & Robertson, Springfield, Ky.

About Geese.

Here is what a schoolboy thinks about geese: "Geese is a low, heavy-set bird, composed mostly of meat and feathers. His head sits on one side and he sits on the other. Geese can't sing much on account of the dampness in the moisture. There ain't no between to his toes, and he carries a toy balloon in his stomach to keep from sinking. Geese has only two legs and they are set so far apart on his running gear they come pretty near missing his body. Some geese when they get big are called ganders and have curls on their tails. Ganders don't have to set or hatch, but just loaf, go swimming and eat. If it was a goose I had rather be a gander every time. Geese does not give milk, but gives eggs, but for me give me liberty or give me death."

RAN THE BLOCKADE.

Putting Through a Risky Piece of Business at Santiago.

Some naval officers at a dinner party the other evening were discussing the efficacy of the Cuban blockade in 1898. That many vessels ran the blockade at Havana, Cienfuegos and elsewhere was admitted.

"But only one vessel ever ran the Santiago blockade," said one of our speakers, "and that was one of our own vessels, the little Gloucester."

He then described how the Gloucester ran the blockade, while commanded by Dick Wainwright, then a lieutenant commander, who had previously been executive officer of the Maine when it blew up.

"We had been sent down to Asperadero to communicate with the insurgent leaders," said the raconteur, who was on the Gloucester at the time. "Upon our return it was quite dark, and we were proceeding slowly to look for a signal on the inside line of the blockade when the electric signaling apparatus broke down. We could not give a signal, and the private identification signal of the night. Had we been discovered by one of the blockading vessels it would at once have flashed the signal and if we did not immediately respond it would have promptly opened fire. We would have been blown to pieces in a minute."

"It was a risky piece of business, but Dick Wainwright was perfectly cool, and the Gloucester actually picked its way without being discovered through the whole blockading fleet, took up its station on the inside line, under the Morro, and as soon as the signaling apparatus was repaired reported its arrival. It was a clear case of blockade running, but it was mighty tricky while it lasted."—San Francisco Call.

An Intelligent Cow.

A few nights ago a citizen went home and found a cow in his yard. He drove her out. He then went into the house and later heard the animal in the yard again. He drove her out the second and third times. The citizen's son came home later and found the animal in the yard and drove her out. The citizen then made an investigation and found the cow got in by wading around the fence on the river side. He hung up a lantern to deceive the cow, so he says, he found the cow in the yard with the lantern hung on her horns, using the same to hunt out the best grapefruit in his grove. Say what you please, but that was an intelligent cow. And the story is true of course it is.—Fort Myer Press.

LINCOLN TRIED IT.

And That Ended the Naval Sweathbox Punishment.

On one of Mr. Lincoln's excursions to Fort Monroe on the steamer Hartford in 1863 his attention was directed to a narrow door bound with iron, the use of which he was anxious to learn.

"What is this?" he asked.

"Oh, that is the sweatbox," was the reply. "It is used for refractory and incontinent seamen. A man in there is subjected to steam heat and has very little ventilation. It generally brings him to terms very quickly."

President Lincoln's curiosity was aroused. "This," he said to himself, "is treatment to which thousands of American seamen are probably subjected every year. Let me try it for myself and see what it really is."

Taking off his hat, for he was severely under six feet in height, he entered the lockers, which he found to be little more than three feet in length or width. He gave orders that at a signal from himself the door should be immediately opened. It was then closed and the steam turned on.

He had been inside hardly three minutes before the signal was given. President Lincoln had experienced enough of what was then regarded as necessary punishment for American seamen. There was very little ventilation, and the short exposure to the hot and humid air had almost suffocated him.

Turning to Secretary Welles of the navy department, the president ordered that no such inclosure as the sweatbox should ever be allowed on any vessel flying the American flag.

It was not an hour after this order had been given before every sailor on every ship in Hampton Roads had heard of it. The effect was most remarkable on the older seamen, many of whom had themselves experienced the punishment of the sweatbox. Some of them wept for joy.

But the good results of this act of President Lincoln were not confined to the American navy. Great Britain, France, Germany and other European countries heard that the sweatbox had been abolished in America as inhuman. One and all of these nations in turn fell into line, and today the sweatbox is not to be found on any vessel flying the flag of a civilized nation throughout the world.

RAN THE BLOCKADE.

Putting Through a Risky Piece of Business at Santiago.

Some naval officers at a dinner party the other evening were discussing the efficacy of the Cuban blockade in 1898. That many vessels ran the blockade at Havana, Cienfuegos and elsewhere was admitted.

"But only one vessel ever ran the Santiago blockade," said one of our speakers, "and that was one of our own vessels, the little Gloucester."

He then described how the Gloucester ran the blockade, while commanded by Dick Wainwright, then a lieutenant commander, who had previously been executive officer of the Maine when it blew up.

"We had been sent down to Asperadero to communicate with the insurgent leaders," said the raconteur, who was on the Gloucester at the time. "Upon our return it was quite dark, and we were proceeding slowly to look for a signal on the inside line of the blockade when the electric signaling apparatus broke down. The ABC and XYZ of ADVERTISING

A SERIES OF TEN TALKS ON ADVERTISING
Written by Seymour Eaton of Philadelphia No. 5

Never spring a big newspaper advertisement upon the public unexpectedly.

Make it an invariable rule to lead up by two or three nicely graded steps to the important announcement to be made. People take a certain pleasure out of anticipation. They enjoy their dinner all the more if they have been anxiously waiting to hear the bell. But if you open up your morning newspaper and find blazed forth in big headlines the advertisement of something startlingly new you are stunned rather than interested. If, however, for two or three days you have been looking for this announcement and each day getting a little more curious about it, you get yourself keyed up in anticipation, and then if the announcement is even better than you had imagined you surrender in a body.

Don't pay the United States government two cents for carrying a letter or a circular worth less than two cents.

The average advertiser will shave off 15 cents a thousand on envelopes and a quarter of a cent a pound on paper and beat down the printer in price so that he is obliged to use a 30-cent ink and by various other economies get his material ready for $6 a thousand. He will then pay the government $20 for carrying his stinky, badly-printed, cheap-looking $6 worth of stuff and put himself on the back for being economical.

Don't waste gray matter on your competitor. No matter how entertainingly he lies, you go right on telling the plain, blunt kind of truth that mother-used-to-make.

Truth can be made far more entertaining than falsehood. Don't be afraid to call a spade a spade.

If the goods are shoddy advertise them as shoddy, give good shoddy measure, and charge shoddy prices. There are tens of thousands of people who prefer shoddy; prefer to eat it, to wear it, to be entertained by it.

If you have news to print about your store—some call it advertising—don't order twenty-three styles of type with whirling borders and a crazy, badly-engraved picture. The mummer on New Year's Day or the clown at Barnum's may look funny, but he couldn't make good on the road selling gold watches. The advertiser has an idea that the more fool things he drags into his copy the more entertaining it is. The clown has the very same idea.

The great thing in all advertising is not quantity of circulation, but quality of your copy printed in a newspaper the readers of which are able to buy your goods.
